How much will my glass repair cost?

Most glass breakages are covered by insurance so you may be able to claim the cost of glass replacement and all you'll need to pay is the excess. Most policies cover glass breakage caused by any event, even accidental damage.

Express Glass are a preferred service provider for many of Australia's largest insurance companies.

No matter who you're insured with, we can manage your claim and send our bill direct to your insurer. All we need are your policy details and any applicable excess.
